

The ESTERO HISTORICAL SOCIETY
and the
KORESHAN STATE HISTORIC SITE

are sponsoring a

COMMUNITY DAY

Saturday - July 5th, 2008
at the KORESHAN STATE HISTORIC SITE
West Corkscrew Rd. in the Picnic area starting at 10:00am.

At 11:00 AM

We will read the Declaration of Independence to celebrate America's birthday.

Everyone is invited to read a passage.

Entry fee will be waived.

Bring your family, friends and neighbors and enjoy the beauty of this beautiful park.

You can rent a canoe and paddle down the Estero River.

You can bring your picnic basket full of goodies and have a great picnic.

You can have a cookout.

Don't forget your matchlight charcoal and of course the hot dogs and hamburgers.

If you don't feel like cooking, the Parks own Billy Simpson will be cooking up a batch of hotdogs and burgers for a nominal fee. There will also be soft drinks and water.

SOOOOOO, c'mon out and spend a few hours with us or stay all day. It's our Park so let's all go and enjoy it. I'm looking forward to seeing each and everyone of you.
